

Biomagnetics

A cellular level detoxification system

Biomagnetics is a multi-faceted detoxification system that works at the cellular level to balance and cleanse the organs and systems naturally. The effects are felt at the physical, mental and emotional level.

The comprehensive approach generates long lasting results by detoxifying the physical body, the mind and the emotions. This cellular level cleanse increases energy levels, strengthens immune function, restores mental clarity and focus, lifts depression, relieves pain, improves sleep and allows natural, safe fat loss when needed.

High success rates for patients tested in multiple categories

Before filing the patent for this system, several studies were done with patients from multiple profiles. These groups consisted of both male and female, all age groups including young children and the elderly, patients with complicated health issues, incurable diseases, and the genetic predispositions for severe health problems.

When following protocols properly, the patients in all categories had high success rates (less than 1% failure, due to the inability to sufficiently hydrate without intravenous therapy). These atypical results are possible because the system employs the body's innate intelligence to orchestrate and manage the healing, thus eliminating human error.

Homeostasis allows the innate intelligence to address the most critical issues for each patient in the order of importance for that patient's health needs and well-being without causing undue stress to the body. As each area of disease and imbalance is restored, the next level of healing is initiated until the body's physical strength, emotional balance, mental clarity and vitality is restored.

Noteworthy documented success with the reversal of severe symptoms in cases of Graves disease (the one percentile group with the protrusion of the eyes, lesions on the legs and severe thyroid dysfunction), arthritis, hypertension, high cholesterol, back pain (caused by multiple fused discs and steel implants in the spine) and addiction to prescription pain medications and anti-depressants.

Restored balance, healthy organs and strengthened immune function improves the overall health and well-being of the patient.

Contraindications

Patients with Cochlear or other magnetic implants cannot use the point stimulation applications portion of the system. During any magnetic type treatment such as an MRI, the point stimulation must be removed for the procedure and can be replaced immediately afterwards.

Patients with the inability to sufficiently hydrate must not use this system. The detoxification that occurs due to cell oxygenation causes excessive amounts of toxins to be released from the cells and must be flushed from the body quickly. Without sufficient hydration, the build up of toxins can cause mild to severe headaches and flu like symptoms. Young children and the elderly should be monitored closely to be certain of sufficient water intake.

It is advised to avoid using point stimulation on pregnant women without first consulting their OBGYN.

Which patients benefit from the use of this treatment?

Due to the non-invasive and gentle nature of the treatment, it has been found to be very safe for all categories of patients, including those with severe illness, the elderly and very young children.

This system will improve the efficacy and compliment any of the existing patient care protocols. By reducing stress on the organs, sufficiently hydrating the brain and body, eliminating toxic conditions, improving the quality of sleep, increasing energy levels and stabilizing emotions & moods, the patient's ability to heal is heightened.

This system has remarkable success in the treatment of menstrual health, menopause, ADD & ADHD, immune disorders such as fibromyalgia, hyper-tension, high cholesterol, pain management, depression, Bi-polar, sleep disorders, children's health, smoking cessation, sexual dysfunction, eczema/psoriasis, weight management and aging.

Particular relief of stress, colds, flu, viruses & allergies, fatigue, insomnia, and anxiety appear almost immediately. The most common effects of the initial visit are increased energy, stress reduction, mental clarity, alertness and improved sleep. Patients usually report that depression lifts, their mood elevates and they actually feel happier within the first two weeks.

What are the physiological effects?

- Restores healthy Cholesterol levels
- Strengthens the immune system
- Balances hormones
- Improves muscle tone
- Regulates blood pressure
- Reduces excess fat
- Relieves Fibromyalgia symptoms
- Relieves insomnia
- Normalizes appetite
- Relieves migraines
- Back pain disappears
- Relieves digestive problems
- Skin texture improves
- Wrinkles are reduced
- Muscle and/or joint pain relieved
- Cellulite is eliminated
- Reverses the affects of aging
- Improves Physical strength and stamina

What are the mental effects?

- Clarity and focus improves
- Alertness returns
- Memory improves
- The patient feels more organized
- Brain function improves

What are the emotional effects?

- Depression lifts
- Emotions balance
- The patient is not easily angered or frustrated
- A calm demeanor and patience returns

How long does it take to see results?

Due to the immediate oxygenation of the cells from the Therapeutic formulations and the point stimulation protocol, the detoxification begins immediately. Some patients feel sensations during the initial treatment while others do not. Some patients report an immediate increase in energy levels, while others may experience an immediate deep relaxation. This is especially true for patients with severe insomnia because the body first addresses the area of health most at risk. Most patients are aware of subtle to extreme changes in energy levels, improved sleep patterns, mental focus and clarity within the first week.

What is included in the treatments?

The initial consultation visit includes:

- Each patient receives a detailed instructional information packet.
- First a topical Therapeutic formula is applied auricularly to both ears. One ear is then swabbed with Isopropyl alcohol, followed by a specific detoxification protocol of point stimulation applied to the same ear.

Following office visits includes:

- Each week the patient returns to have the protocol placed on the opposite ear. It is imperative to reverse and replace the protocols weekly. The reversal of the point stimulation facilitates the change in energy flow patterns due to the different polarities of the meridians and energy pathways in the body.
- The major systems and organs in the body are systematically cleansed and balanced for optimum performance and better health. Elimination, digestion, hormone balance and metabolism are stimulated during the detoxification at the cellular level.
- The combination of the Therapeutic-grade formulas and point stimulation protocols excites the receptor sites on the cells via the meridians and neurological-pathways causing oxygenation of the cells and a comprehensive detoxification.
- A Therapeutic-grade formula is applied to various alternate parts of the body according to the specific treatment protocols.
- The patient is given verbal and written instruction for his or her specific treatment protocol. The formulas which best facilitate maximum detoxification and addresses the patient's immediate needs are given to the patient to be used three or more times daily during the following week.
- A salt cleanse and Epsom salt bath is advised immediately.

Point stimulation protocols are rotated from ear to ear weekly until vibrant health and balance is restored. Homeostasis allows the system to safely continue working at the level most needed for optimal health.

WARNING!

It is absolutely crucial that the patient drinks a minimum of 10 to 12 eight ounce glasses of good quality water every day. Mild to severe headaches and/or flu-like symptoms can ensue if the newly released toxins cannot be flushed and eliminated from the body quickly. If the patient continued the treatments for any length of time without drinking enough water, the symptoms could be severe.

If these symptoms occur: immediately begin drinking water until the symptoms subside. Any certified Biomagnetics Physician, technician, or facility associate will NOT replace the point stimulation if signs of insufficient water intake are present

For patients wanting fat loss:

When the treatment is applied to one side of the body the patient may experience measurable weight loss. When applied to the opposite side, the patient may experience inch loss without any noticeable weight loss. When the initial cleansing begins, the toxins released may be from the internal organs and more severe health issues will be addressed first. A thin layer of fat all over the body may also be reduced in the beginning. This may be in the face/neck, the rolls on the back or in the legs or hips. As the treatments continue, the results speed up and the fat loss is increasingly more noticeable. There is an immediate increase in energy levels, more restful sleep, greatly reduced appetite and an over all lighter happier feeling. The longer a patient receives treatments, the more apparent the results become. As the body eliminates the toxins stored in the fat cells and the energy level is increased, the patient begins to see the healthy changes and will feel pleased about their body for the first time in a long time. As the patients' system cleanses and becomes more balanced, the speed of the fat loss is increased. When the patient then maintains a healthy lifestyle, the fat loss can be permanent.

How quickly can a patient see visible results with fat loss?

Because fat loss is not the objective of this system, merely a side effect, it occurs as quickly as the body is able to cleanse the toxins and restore balance to the organs and energy systems.

Taking weight loss drugs or doing extreme exercise to lose rapidly is harmful because it creates extreme stress on the organs and can cause the loss of muscle tissue. The Biomagnetics treatment is very safe for patients wanting to achieve healthy fat loss. The body cleanses the stored toxins in the blood stream and the fat cells through cell oxygenation. As the toxins are flushed from the body, the fat cells are reduced in size. The point stimulation also balances the body. With the comprehensive rotation of nurturing and stimulating the organs and systems, the body becomes healthier overall.

When a patient also chooses to cut sugar and starch during the initial phase of the treatments, the weight comes off more rapidly. Extra energy is needed for the body to process sugar and starches. Depending on how the patient's body metabolizes sugars and starches, removing these foods from the diet can relieve undue stress on the organs and systems that are already depleted or out of balance. For the patient who chooses to continue eating starches and sugars during the initial phases of the detoxification the noticeable fat reduction can be delayed unless using the healthy Life Essence blockers (Fat blocker, Carb blocker, Fat Burner, Metabolism booster and the Super herb series).

How can Physician and patient improve results of the treatment?

- INCREASE WATER CONSUMPTION.
- Get sufficient rest. The body needs rest in order to regenerate.
- Reduce sugar and starch during the initial phase of the treatment.
- Eat six small mini meals per day
- Get nutrition via healthy foods and/or pure supplements.
- Use Therapeutic formulas for severely depleted energy levels.
- Address adrenal and/or thyroid function with Therapeutic formulas
- Patient must observe any negative thought and speech habits. Eliminate as much as possible. It is very depleting to the mind and the body at the cellular level, especially when trying to cleanse. This includes interfacing with people who are very negative or draining on the patient's energy.

When should a patient stop receiving the treatments?

Once the body has cleansed the toxins, the body's organs and systems have been stimulated and supported, the body's balance is restored. The patient can then maintain a healthy body by eating a normal, healthy, balanced diet. Extreme diets are not recommended, but are discouraged. Balance, common sense, good nutrition, lots of fresh clean water, good rest, positive attitude and being kind to yourself is all that is needed to maintain the new you!

What codes can be used to bill an insurance company?

Medical professionals frequently request information concerning CPT codes and typical fees relative to billing. Reimbursement procedures vary by profession, by insurance carrier, and by state

There are countless diagnosis codes that can be used when evaluating a patient's treatment. Depending on the evaluation results, you can refer to the ICD-9 coding book for these diagnoses. Please note that we can not specifically recommend or certify the appropriateness of using any given code for your services.

About the founder:

Victoria Richards is the CEO and founder of the largest natural catalytic diffusion manufacturer in the world, Essential Aire Company. This cutting-edge technology company specializes in breakthrough treatments and Therapeutic formulations for the healthcare and wellness industries.

As an award winning designer and researcher of Energy medicine, Quantum mechanics and Environmental Sciences, Ms. Richards is an expert in the practical application of electro-magnetic frequencies for improved lifestyle and total mind/body wellness. Her expertise in the area of Nutraceuticals, high-tech systems and magnetic therapies led her to her most recent patent, a cellular level detoxification system. By integrating traditional science with western therapies, this technology offers a unique non-invasive detoxification system that balances and cleanses naturally at the cellular level. It uses the body's own electromagnetic energy, therapeutic formulas, cell oxygenation, intensive hydration and the identification of subconscious outdated programmed synapses and patterns.

There have been countless testimonials from physicians and their patients regarding the health restoration of the body, mind and emotions after using this therapy.

The commitment of Essential Aire Company is to develop products that improve the quality of life and well being.
